CAPTAIN ELOPES; LEAVES COLLEGE

"Ted" Bowen, of University, and Miss Mary Blanton Married in Washington.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlotteville, Va., October 19.—Hedley McNeer Bowen, of Freeman, W. Va., the sturdy captain of the varsity football team at the University of Virginia, surprised his friends yesterday by eloping to Washington with Miss Mary Blanton, formerly of the University, but more recently of Lexington, where she was residing with her mother, Mrs. Sallie Blanton. Miss Blanton came to Charlottesville on Monday to visit her sister, Miss Elizabeth Blanton, and yesterday afternoon was joined at Main Street Station by Mr. Bowen. They took the local train for Gordonsville, and there awaited No. 4, the fast train to Washington. The young couple was accompanied by the captain of the Virginia football eleven and the captain of the University of Virginia football eleven came the news today that he had resigned from college, and that a new leader for the team would have to be chosen. The election of his successor will take place tomorrow afternoon. Three names are mentioned in connection with the captaincy—Todd, Finlay and Wood.

The resignation of Bowen comes as quite a blow to the football squad, as it leaves the team practically without an experienced punter. Bowen has been doing all the kicking for the past three seasons, and no attention has been given to developing other players in that department of the game. Coach Yancy is thus thrown in quite a predicament, as the big games of the schedule are uncomfortably near at hand, and he will have to act quickly to develop a punter who is as reliable as Bowen.

FORTY ELEPHANTS

Barnum & Bailey Prize Winners to Be Seen Here on Wednesday.

The most interesting incident of circus day, which is free to all who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity, is the arrival and unloading of the five special railway trains bearing the circus paraphernalia and the animals. There are 400 beautiful horses with the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which give two exhibitions here next Wednesday.

One of the especially interesting sights is the performance of two mammoths in getting out of their cages and upon the ground.

The other elephants in this remarkable herd of forty rare specimens of Asiatic and African origin in vacating their traveling compartments, walk down the car door until the gangplank is taken away. They, therefore, calmly wait until all of their traveling mates have walked the plank, and are grouped together awaiting the coming of their leaders. Then it is that the two monsters get in motion and prove that they know a thing or two about the solution of mathematical problems. They drop to their knees, and wriggling their great bodies forward slowly manage to get their front feet out and upon the ground.

The floor of the car is about five feet above the level of the roadway, but this does not keep them from reaching the solid foundation of the earth without mishap or trying delay. Once their front feet are on the ground they draw their bodies forward, allowing their hind legs to drag along the car floor. In this way they are soon able to get one hind foot out and then the rest is easy. They act as if they took more or less pride in this feat and as soon as it is achieved, they begin to trumpet and wave their trunks with an energy that bespeaks deep-seated satisfaction. The waiting group of elephants greet this signal of their leaders with an effective display of their own, and begin to amble in a circle with the hurried gait that makes their ring performance both astonishing and pleasing.

The five herds of elephants form an attractive feature of the free street parade, which will leave the show grounds about 10 o'clock on the morning of show day.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau,
The Times-Dispatch,
1020 Hull Street,
Phone Madison 175.

For interfering with officers in the discharge of their duty, J. F. McMahon, Sr., who is himself a special county officer, will appear before Squire L. W. Cheatham in the Oak Grove Court today.

The charges against McMahon were preferred by Officers Traylor and Jarrell, of Chesterfield, and arose over a band of gipsies who have been camping on McMahon's property all summer. A warrant was issued recently against them for allowing their cattle to run at large and of trespassing on private property. McMahon, it is alleged, offered them advice which if acted upon would have been prejudicial to peace and good order.

The gipsies, not acting on his advice, saw Squire Cheatham and arranged for a private hearing. This was given yesterday afternoon and the case is now on the road south. This same band has camped for several years on the same site and will most likely be back again in the spring.

Haddock Case to Grand Jury.

Clarence Haddock, the young white man who was arrested, Wednesday on a warrant charging him with entering in the night time the warehouse of Wingo, Ellett & Crump Shoe Company and stealing a lot of shoes, waived a preliminary hearing before Justice Maurice in Police Court, Part 2, yesterday, and the case was sent to the grand jury of the November term of the Huntington Court, Part 2, which convenes on November 20.

Property Transfers.

By a deed of bargain and sale recorded yesterday John Trevillian became the owner of the lot and building formerly used as a grocery store at the corner of Twelfth and Perry Streets. The conveyance was made by R. C. Broadus and wife. The lot fronts 125 feet on Perry Street and runs back between parallel lines 105 feet. The consideration named was $2,532.

A sale of even greater magnitude was also recorded. By a deed of bargain and sale recorded yesterday, Frank L. Sutton, Sr., and A. L. Adams, jointly and severally, conveyed to the late, described as fronting 101 feet on East Sixth Street, between Porter and Bainbridge, and extending back 120 feet to an alley, from Edward Frost and A. Reid Venable, $195,603 in cash and the assumption of two notes, one for $1,400 and the other $1,533.33 was mentioned as consideration.

To Repeat Comedy.

"Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," the comedy presented at the big Patriotic Sons of America bazaar in Cersley Hall, Swanboro, Monday night, will be repeated to-night. While the playlet was in the hands of amateurs, only, it was very creditably performed and was well worth the price of admission, which was 10 cents. In anticipation of the large crowd which is expected to-night, over 100 additional chairs have been put in the hall.

Nunnally, Jimmy; Miss Grace Morris; Darsey Thornton; Miss Maud Merritt; Alhira; Miss Glenns Ellis; Melissa; W. M. Engard; Miss Green; L. M. Bendall; Mr. Lee; Miss Louise Tyson; Virginia Lee; A. C. Burke; Mr. O'Connor; and Miss Cola Gill as Mandy Bates.

In Police Court.

Pathos and humor were blended in Police Court, Part 2, yesterday. An impassioned plea for her erring husband caused many a dim eye in court when the case of Andrew Huband, charged with wife-beating, was heard. Justice Maurice did not have heart enough to send Huband to jail, but gave him a severe lecture and a promise of twelve months on his next appearance in court.

On the other hand much amusement was felt when William Pleasant (colored) was called for refusing to move or have his house repaired when ordered to do so by the Building Inspector. Pleasant can't see how he can live in the house while it is being rebuilt, and can't see how he can live in it after it is rebuilt, because he is a block on which the majority of residents are white.

The muddle was not straightened out satisfactorily, but Pleasant was ordered to either move or have the house repaired in thirty days.

Hustings Court Matters.

Two appealed cases from the Police Court, Part 2, will be called in Hustings Court, Part 2, this morning at 10 o'clock. The most important of these cases is that of Thomas Fowler (colored), who was sentenced to serve six months on the roads on a charge of stealing a watch chain valued at $5. Fowler claims to have found the chain. His story is to have effect that he was employed to help a bureau drawer. After loading the bureau into the wagon, he turned around and saw the chain in the gutter. Picking it up, he showed it to a couple of fellow-workmen. He claims to have put the chain in his hip pocket. When the loss of the chain was discovered, but that it had gone through a hole in his pocket and was again lost.

Charles Morris has been retained by Fowler and the case will be hotly contested.

Will Not Send for Adams.

Captain of Detectives T. J. McMahon yesterday received a telegram from the Chief of Police, Gary, Ind., informing him that Raleigh H. Adams, who is wanted in South Richmond on a charge of larceny of $500 from his mother, had been apprehended in that city.

It was evident that the mother had also received a telegram, as she called on the Commonwealth's Attorney, Charles Page and told him that she would not press the charge. Seeing that there was enough evidence to convict, the Commonwealth will not ask for requisition papers.

Adams, who was always considered wild, took French leave in October, 1910. It is thought that some one knowing where he was living betrayed him to the Gary police.

Ordination Service.

On Sunday next an ordination of deacons will be held in the Oak Grove Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. D. T. Lancaster, will be assisted by Rev. J. T. Haley, Stockton, Street Baptist Church; Rev. W. C. Sales, Wetherford Baptist Church; and Rev. Ira D. L. Knight, of the Woodland Heights Church.

The services, to which the public is invited, will begin at 3:30 P. M.

The men who are to be honored by the church are R. G. Lowman, J. W. Brooks, J. B. Evans, W. S. Reams and George Baughen.

Revival services will also start Sunday in the church. The name of the minister to assist at these services is not yet announced.

Boy Somewhat Improved.

The condition of the little son of C. N. Jackson, of Swanboro, who is ill in the Sheltering Arms Hospital, was reported yesterday as being greatly improved. He hopes to be able to return to his home in a few days.

Plans for New Warehouse.

Plans were filed yesterday in the office of the Building Inspector for a new warehouse to be erected by the Watkins-Cottrell Company, at Fourteenth and Dock Streets, to cost $45,000. The building will be of permanent construction and three stories in height.

GLIDDEN TOURISTS REACH CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, N. C., October 19.—Showing the effects of the heavy roads, its occupants travel-stained and weary, the first contesting car in the Glidden tour checked in here, the night control, this afternoon at 4:55. Preceded by gaily decorated cars of local automobilists, the visitors were met in the suburbs and escorted through lanes of enthusiastic people who lined the streets to the parking point. Following the loaders, the cars arrived in bunches, and by 7 o'clock all had reported to the official scorer, save a few stragglers delayed by minor mishaps. The most serious accidents were the breaking of an axle and the breaking of another's wheel. To-night the tourists were the guests of citizens at an elaborate reception and smoker at the Southern Manufacturers' Club. The tour will be resumed at 9:30 to-morrow morning. Spartanburg, S. C., will be the noon control, and Anderson will be reached at night. Eighteen perfect scores survive the run thus far.
